DEATH OF JOHN WESLEY.

He rose in the morning the first of his household. Once, he relates, he was up at half-past five, went to the chapel, but found no one of his assistant preachers there. Of three or four in the house, all were asleep. "I preached myself," wrote the old man of eighty-four. When he complained, his assistant urged that they were up late the night before.—He made it a rule that every one in the house should retire at nine, in order to attend the morning service at five. At eighty-six Wesley admitted the weight of years. His eyes, he said, were dim, his voice was faint; he could no longer keep his accounts or his journal. He traveled almost to the last, and was followed by the throng, who never deserted him.

In the spring of 1791, he was brought to his house in City Road, stricken with a fever. On the 2d of March he died, surrounded by a group of friends.—When he was dead, they broke into a psalm of pracse. His funeral, at fiive o'clock in the morning, was attended by a vast throng, and a sermon was preached in memory of his good deeds, in City Road Chapel, when the church was hung with mourning, and every member of the great audience, except one, who took the blue ribbon from her hat when she saw her error, was clothed in black.—City Road Chapel is Wesley's monument. There are the building and charitable labors he planned; there the room in which he died—his house, his church, his tomb.

He desired at his funeral, he said, no pomp, but only the tears of those who loved him.

A darkey was once attempting to steal a goose, but a dog raised an objection, and Sambo retired. The next night during a thundershower he attempted it again, and just as he was on the point of getting away with the fowl, the lightning struck close by, and the noise nearly frightened the poor fellow to death. Dropping the goose, he started away muttering, "Peers to me der am a mighty lot of fuss made 'bout a common goose."

A Virginia railroad was made to pay twenty-five dollars for killing a rooster The engineer said he spoke to the gentleman with the whistle as kindly as possible, but when the fellow dropped one wing on the ground, raised his good eye heavenward, and commenced whetting his spur on the rail, forbearance ceased to be a virtue, and he let into him with thirteen freight cars.

A North Carolina landlord posts a notice in his dining room that the Legislature would be first seated, afterwards the gentlemen.

"Boiled Eggs" is the name adopted by a new Danbury base-ball club to signify how impossible it is to beat them.

They're enforcing the game laws so strictly in Connecticut that travelers can't even get poached eggs there.

THE RUSH TO KANSAS AND COLORADO.

The indications are that the rush to Kansas and Colorado will be greater than ever in 1874. The shortest way to reach the Far West is through St. Louis, the great Mississippi-Valley City, of over 450,000 inhabitants, and thence west over the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Short Line, which reaches all the great land grants in the West, and runs six fast Express trains, two more than any other road, between the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers. This road, in the last two years, has expended over two million dollars, besides earnings, in extraordinary improvement of roadway, in relaying its line with best quality of new steel and iron rails, on broad, new ties, and in passenger equipment, having substituted for ordinary cars new reclining chair coaches, with every appliance for comfort and safety, being elegantly carpeted and fitted with dressing rooms, with toilet conveniences for ladies, gentlemen and families traveling with children, free of any extra charge. An ticket agent selling through tickets to the West will furnish tickets by this excellent route through St. Louis, over the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Short Line, the best and shortest to Kansas, Colorado, Nebraska, California and the Great West, it being the only line running through cars between St Louis and Omaha. For map, circulars and time tables address either F. A. Palmer, Indianapolis, Ind., or P. B. Groat, St. Louis, Mo., either of whom will furnish any information desired. [jan 8wtf

THE
RIPENS AUG. 15TH.

STANDS THE WISCONSIN WINTERS unprotected. Recommended by the Wisconsin State Horticultural Society for general cultivation in 1871. What we have long needed is a good early grape. The Hartford has been the best heretofore, but with bad faults. The Janesville is Hardy, is Productive, is Growthy—every way as good as the Concord, and ten days earlier than the Hartford. The Janesville and the Concord, we predict, will run side by side, extending the season of that delicious fruit.

☞ For a new sort, we can offer No. 1 vines obtained from headquarters very cheap—same as offered by the producer.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS:

Monday Evening, May 4.

THE Board of Supervisors of Stephenson county, in this State, has voted to grant no liquor licenses. The village trustees of Rochelle, Ill., have done likewise.

AT a recent workingmen's banquet in Sheffield, England, Mr Roebuck, M. P., made a speech denouncing emigration; in the course of which he said that he hoped England's family of children would still cling to her, and that he holds to be a dastard any Englishman who incites them to seek a new home across the sea. And yet the last steamer sailed with several hundred English laborers on board, and the next will bring as many more to America.

IT is becoming altogether too common a thing for foreign countries to transport their criminals to our shores. The convicts are generally willing to come, and the governments ready to gratify and aid them by paying their traveling exponses. The United States is the only loser by the transaction. An instance in point came up the other day in New York, where the Commissioners of Emigration took under their special care six Danish convicts who had just arrived. It seems that on the expiration of their several terms of imprisonment they had been sent to America at the expense of the police authorities of Copenhagen. Secretary Fish and the Danish Consul have been made acquainted with the case.

ZINA FAY PIERCE, the young, eloquent and pretty daughter of a St. Albans, Vt., clergyman, has inaugurated a new departure in the temperance movement. Her creed is, that the milder forms of liquor should not be classed with the more fiery, that beer drinking and beer gardens should be countenanced by young ladies, that women should drink malt liquors, instead of tea; and that the total abstinence pledge is a "stigma upon the communion, and a direct accusation against the wisdom and morality of our blessed Saviour himself." The doctrines are certainly radical enough, but none too much so to find many who will approve of them.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—The attempts to secure a compromise on the Finance bill are now confined to the Senate. Members of the House Committee on Banking and Currency state that they shall take no definite action upon the new measure before them until the Senate Finance Committee shall mature their new bill.

There has long been a quarrel between the Interior Department and the War Department relative to the surveys of the Territories. This morning the President sent to the House a message suggesting that the work should be done by the War Department.

It is said that Vice-President Wilson has called upon President Grant, to oppose the appointment of Secretary Richardson to the Court of Claims, or a foreign mission, and that Mr. Wilson represented that it would be a Butler appointment, of which Massachusetts has enough.

BELLEVILLE, Ill, May 2.—An attempt was made by some unknown party to wreck the north bound express train on the St. Louis and Cairo Short Line railroad, about nine o'clock last night, near the Walnut Hill Cemetery, about a mile south of the depot in this city, by placing a tie across the track. The train was running at full speed when the locomotive encountered the obstruction, but the engineer immediately applied the air brakes and stopped the train. Fortunately only the forward trucks of the engine were thrown from the track. These were put in place again, and the train proceeded to St. Louis, being delayed only about forty minutes.

BALTIMORE, May 2.—A statement is published this morning of a shocking outrage perpetrated by two negroes on James Henry Woodly, a colored boy, aged fifteen, in Howard county, on the 15th of April. The boy charges that the men scarred and branded his limb with a red hot iron, and afterward poured spirits of turpentine over his naked body and set him on fire. In this condition he escaped, and succeeded in extinguishing the flames. Woodly is at the Lombard Street Infirmary. His back and legs are roasted to a crisp. His recovery is doubtful. It is reported that the persons who committed the outrage have been arrested.

THE TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

Mrs. Moore's Address.

We publish to-day by request of numerous persons, the address delivered by Mrs. J. P. Moore, at the temperance mass meeting held last Friday night. The address of Mrs. Walston will appear in to-morrow's paper.

After the introductory exercises were concluded, Mrs. Moore took the stand, and spoke as follows:

As I am the first to address you to night it is but fitting that I should speak of the foundation upon which we are building—prayer.

The great Napoleon found himself one dark night upon a sandy beach, his bearings lost, and the tide rising. He called his men to halt, and sent out aids in all directions to find solid footing. He stood the centre of a living wheel, each line of men a spoke. We stand to night upon more treacherous soil than did Napoleon, and the tide is well nigh over the heads of our dear ones; and we have chosen God as our centre wheel, and for days—yes, months—a line of prayer has been going up. And God has set the chariot wheels rolling that are to save our husbands, brothers and sons.

Many are here to night asking how this dark evil of intemperance can be stayed. This question has arisen from government and church, from school and home. The ages past have failed to stay its evil progress; but to night we bring before your notice two strong forces to bear upon this curse—God's promises to hear prayer, and women's faith.

Beecher says, "Snowflakes come down so frail they melt upon our palm, yet they block the path of the mightiest engine, and for weeks hold in check trade and migration." And listen—to-night there are prayers ascending upon the wings of faith that shall yet stop this mighty engingery of hell—INTEMPERANCE.

A standing army of seventy thousand is marching to the grave, with their brains all mottled and with the eternal fires already consuming their souls; and God is saying, Awake, awake ye daughters that sit in ease, and put on the beautiful garments of salvation and save this people.—And in his name and through his strength we expect to conquer.

Out at sea a great ship was overtaken in a storm. At the height of the fearful tempest it was discovered that her sails had become entangled, and some one must go up and straighten them. A boy was ordered from below, and commanded to go aloft. With whitened face he looked around and then above, suddenly he rushed below. All was still, for none dare attempt that which the boy had been commanded to perform. But suddenly he appeared again upon deck, and seizing the ropes he went swiftly up the main mast, flung the sails into shape, and as quickly descended amid cheers. "What did you do when you went below?" was the question. "I prayed," was the firm reply. In this great storm that is shaking our households into ruin, woman, though weaker by far physically than they whom she would save, has heard the command that comes not from deck or hull, but from Him who holds the universe in His hand, and from her closet she comes with the spirit of God abiding within, white and trembling, but with the firm and steady step of one who expects to conquer, though it takes her life to redeem others.

From Chicago and Columbus come the bachanalian cry of inebriated men as they clutched with angry hands and jeered with harsh voices at the women who from closet and altar had come forth to save this tottering mass from destruction. A few nights ago, in our own city, a band of women with weary feet and anxious hearts presented to the city council a petition to stay the tide of intemperance in our own midst. That which had taken days to accomplish was in one short hour flung back into our faces as A FRAUD! Our hands fell helplessly to our sides as we felt the unutterable pain come to our hearts as the sentence was pronounced upon our cherished hopes. But that night, city fathers, you struck mothers and fathers not upon the forehead, but in the HEART! and by your own deed you kindled a flame that shall NEVER die! for we went from this room to our God, and for days since there has been a ceaseless volume of prayer ascending—and who to-night in this christian land doubt the power of prayer? Who can say with such a leader as God ever makes, and with such a weapon as prayer, anything but victory shall be ours? Men with no shadow of faith upon their hearts, and alas! some with the name of christian upon their lips, stand back and say, How will it all end? But God is saying to us, "Be not dismayed, I am with thee."

Know you, my sisters, at this hour upon which side of this great question you stand before your God? Imagine to night your loved one hanging over an abyss, and I in my home busy with the cares this world ever brings to us all; from my window I see your boy in this danger, yet I say, Well, I might save him, but to do this I will perchance do what ought to take man's courage and strength—and it will no doubt make me appear less the woman to rush forth and save somebody else's child, yet were it mine I should not for a moment hesitate. I look again, he is gone—your boy is lost—perchance in this case save. And can I now turn and say, Well, am I your boy's keeper, that should have strained nerve and limb to save, if by personal effort I might have done so? No! like Cain with my blood upon my soul I might cry out, "God forgive me this great sin of omission." And to-night there is an innumerable throng hanging over this great gulf of intemperance, and a solid column falling into line, all unmindful of the fearful doom pronounced upon the drunkard by God himself. And shall we sit murmuring to ourselves, Yes, it is dreadful! but God doesn't call me to work in this way. How do you know? Had the question come to either of the three who to-night address you that this was our work to speak in public, then if possible we should have shrunk back more than now, and said, It cannot be my lot to do this But we for weeks have been asking for the way of duty to be made plain. This is the first heavy burden laid upon us, but leaning upon God, we are pressing forward, and the strongest cheer we can ask is, my sisters, for you to join in this labor. If you still doubt, stop and take your Bible—our guide, and find within its leaves this command: "Go work to-day in my vineyard." And will you let satan tempt you to say, Yes, but God didn't mean this field when that was written, Open again, Gallatians, 6th chapter, 2d verse, "Bear ye one another's burdens, and thus fulfill the law of Christ." Was there ever a class more burdened than these slaves to intemperance? And did not Christ mean these when he said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these ye have done it unto me." If you have not done so already to-night upon bended knee, let the question go up from an honest, Christ-loving heart, "Lord what wilt thou have me to do." And then listen for God's reply, and with His benediction upon your head in turn say, "Speak Lord, for thy servant heareth." And from home and hovel we will gather, and with God's blessing upon our heads, and his love in our hearts, and with no prayer of vengeance upon our lips; but with the cry welling up within us that came from a heart full of agony eighteen centuries ago, for those who are dealing out this evil, "Father, forgive them, they know not what they do." And for ourselves we only ask that at last it may be said of one and all, "She hath done what she could."

Suicide at Quincy.

MURDER NEAR CARROLLTON, ILLINOIS.

Interesting News from Spain.

Washington and Springfield Items.

CARROLTON, Ill., May 2.—It is quite definitely ascertained that a desperate character who hails from the vicinity of Montezuma, Pike county, Illinois, is the murderer of Mr. John Halbirt, which occurred near this city on Thursday night last. He is best known by the name of Clark Evans, but has traveled under the names of James Bridges and William Owens.—Those who saw him on the day of the murder describe him as about five feet eight or nine inches high, fair complexion, short sandy or light hair, and no beard. He has two or three teeth out of the lower jaw, and is about twenty-four years old. When last seen he wore a new pair of stogy boots, striped store pants with a patch on one knee, a close-bodied blue-black soldier's coat with frock tail, and a grayish cap. He carried away from Halbirt's house, a suit of nearly new dark steel mixed clothes and a pair of light pegged boots nearly new, one of which had been cut below the instep and sewed up. Halbirt's son offers $500 reward for the arrest of the murderer, and late this afternoon news were received that parties were in close pursuit.

QUINCY, Ill., May 2.—About 11 o'clock this morning, Joseph Cramer, son-in-law of the City Marshal, Henry Jasper, residing at 834 Main street, shot himself while alone in his room. When found, a moment afterward, he was sitting in a chair dead. During the absence of his wife he took off one boot, split open his sock so that he could get one toe out, then took a shot gun, placed the muzzle in his mouth and pulled the trigger with his toe.—The contents passed upward, and coming out at the top of his head lodged in the ceiling. He was thirty-eight years old. No cause assigned for the rash act. He leaves a wife and one child.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., May 3.—As the Memphis train arrived at Argenta, opposite here, to-night, it was boarded by a company of armed men commanded by Captain Williams, of Baxter's force, who asked for Judge Searle and Judge Bennet, of the Supreme Court. Upon their being pointed out, he said that he had orders to arrest them.—Judge Bennet asked to see his authority, but was told he had no writ, but that he was ordered by Gov. Baxter, commanding the Arkansas state militia, to arrest them. Judge Bennett said that he would not go unless he was compelled by force, whereupon Capt. Williams whistled to his men who were standing outside, and they rushed in, with revolvers cocked, and compelled Judges Searle and Bennett to go with them. They were hurried off, and, up to this writing, have not been heard of on this side of the river. Their friends here fear that they will be foully dealt with. The Supreme Court was to have convened here to-morrow, having been adjourned to the first Monday in the month, and it is thought that Baxter was afraid that they might take up the case of Brooks vs. Baxter. Judge Stephenson, also of the Supreme bench, was also on the train but was not arrested. This is accounted for from the fact that he took the train at Forrest City, and Judges Searle and Bennett came from Memphis. Some of Baxter's spies in Memphis telegraphed over here that Searle and Bennett were on the train, and thereupon the order for their arrest was made by Baxter.—This high handed outrage has created much excitement in Brooks' camp, and serious trouble is apprehended if Col. Rose does not interfere for their release.

LITTLE ROCK, May 2.—An attempt was made about dark this evening by some one supposed to belong to the State House party to assasinate an agent of the Associated Press. A shot was fired from the outside by some person concealed in a lumber pile, into the window where the agent was supposed to be sitting. The agent had just left his desk and had turned his light partly down. The ball passed through the window, scattering the glass over his desk.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 2.—Colonel Harlow, the Secretary of State, decided definitely this morning not to publish the session laws, as required under the act of 1865. He was impelled to this course by the advice of the Attorney General, and after consulting the Governor and others, and also from an economical consideration. The first installment of the manuscript copy of the Revised Statutes was placed in the hands of the Public Printer yesterday, amounting to about one-sixth of the volume, or 200 pages Mr. Hurd comes here next Wednesday to give his whole time and supervision to the work. Colonel Harlow is determined to push it to the utmost extent, using his own clerk to aid in the work. when it can be done; but with all the aid that can be brought to bear, it is not believed that the Statutes will be ready for distribution before the 1st of August, and most likely not until the 1st of September.

Governor Beveridge arrived at home last night, and appeared in the Executive Office this morning.

MADRID, May 2.—Official advices received this morning announce that the Republican troops have entered Bilbao. The Carlists are retreating in great disorder. The news has created intense excitement here.

Additional dispatches say that Gen. Concha, who left the sea coast a few days ago with 20,000 men to attack the Carlists in the rear, gained the heights on the bank of the River Nervion, above Sopuerto.

The Carlist General Andechaqua was killed in an engagement previous to the deliverance of Bilbao by Serrano's troops.

The church in San Pedro Abanto was nearly demolished by the fire of the Republicans

PITTSBURG, May 2.—The murderer of the Hamnet family was arrested last neght in Alleghany City. He gives his name as Earnst Mintzin. He made a full confession to-day, and said he murdered them with an ax, the object being to get possession of Hamnet's money, he supposing there was a considerable sum in the house.

ST. LOUIS, May 2.—The Democrat's Carrollton (Ill.) special says: John Holbirt, one of our oldest citizens, residing five miles west of here, was found dead in his bed yesterday, Friday, morning, with his head terribly mashed with a mallet, which still lay in the room. No clue is known to the murderer. Owing to domestic troubles Holbirt had lived separate from his family for several years past.

TENNESSEEANS!

SLAVE CABIN CONCERTS.

OPERA HOUSE,

WEDNESDAY EVE'G, MAY 6!

This band of colored Singers numbers five young men and five young ladies. All but one of them were formerly Slaves, but they are now students of the Central Tennessee College, at Nashville, Tenn. This is one of the oldest and largest Freedmen's Colleges in the South. It was founded in 1866, and now has three buildings on Maple street, and 280 students. Rev. Jno. Braden, D. D., is President of the institution. All the proceeds of the concerts of the Tennesseans, above expenses, go to the erection of a fourth building, which the crowded condition of the present buildings renders necessary.

THEIR SONGS.

The Tennesseans sing the quaint, fervid descriptive old melodies of the plantation, with which they have been familiar from childhood, and which they have learned from the lips of the "old auntles" in the South. The quaint conceits and touching pathos of the songs, interpreted by the indescribable music, have evoked smiles and tears and irrepressible applause wherever their concerts have been given. The singers are interrupted nightly in their songs by outbursts of applause from their audiences.

The Cincinnati Gazette says: "It is difficult to say whether tears or laughter are the proper response The fact is both are given at every concert."

THEIR TOUR.

The Tennesseans started on their tour so recently as last January, and have given concerts to immense audiences, in Cleveland, Dayton, Indianapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Minneapolis, and many intermediate cities. This is the troupe which in February last created such enthusiasm in Chicago, calling out audiences of more than two thousand people for several nights in succession.

The Chicago Journal says of their Concerts in Chicago: "Such success, while it is eminently deserved, is entirely unprecedented in concert history in this city." It is estimated that they have sung to 100,000 people in the last three months.

The Tennesseans sing only one night in Decatur. Do not have it to regret when your friends are telling you of the Tennesseans, and humming their strangely beautiful music, that you failed to hear them when you had the opportunity.

Band of Hope.—On yesterday, after the regular Sunday School exercises were over at the First M. E. Church, ribbon badges were presented to those who had previously joined the temperance organization known as "The M. E. Sunday School Band of Hope;" after which an opportunity was given for others to join, and in response to the invitation about 30 came forward and took the pledge and received their badges. The organization now numbers over two hundred. It is the intention to hold a mass meeting on some Sabbath evening, in the course of a few week, at which time the Band will meet in the lecture room and march to the upper room in procession, with their badges on.

SUNDAY RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

The weather yesterday morning and throughout the day was somewhat threatening, though no rain fell. Religious services at the different churches were well attended, both morning and evening.

At the United Brethren Church, regular quarterly meeting services were held, Rev. I. Kretzinger, the presiding elder, officiating throughout the day. The services consisting of preaching, and the adimanistration of the Lord's Supper, were of a very interesting and impressive character. The congregations were large and attentive.

At the First M. E. Church the pastor officiated in the morning, taking for his text the words of Christ, "It is expedient for you that I go away, for if I go not away the comforter will not come, but if I go away I will send him unto you." After some well expressed introductory thoughts the speaker announced as the leading thought of his sermon the superiority of the spirit over the bodily presence of Christ, as a means of instructing and comforting God's people, and enlightening and saving the world; which thought was elaborated in a clear and forcible manner.

In the evening Rev. Mr. Clokey, of Ohio, (brother of Mr. Clokey, of the firm of Smith & Clokey of this city), filled the pulpit, taking for his text the book of Hester, the sermon being an epitome of the history given therein. The discourse was delivered without manuscript, and its subject matter was well presented. Mr. Clokey is an easy and fluent speaker, and would, we should judge, give interest to any subject he might take in hand.

At the Christian Church the congregations were large, and in the evening the sermon was from the words in 1st Timothy, 4-16: "Take heed unto thyself and unto the doctrine: continue in them, for in so doing thou shalt both save thyself and them that hear thee." The sermon was designed to set forth the influence for good of a true and faithful minister—one who takes heed to himself and to the doctrine which he preaches. The subject was well presented and attentively listened to.

At Stapp's Chapel the pastor officiated, taking for his text in the morning the words in Jeremiah, 17:7: "Blessed is the man that trusteth in the Lord and whose hope the Lord is." A brief sermon was preached which was followed by the administration of the Lord's Supper.

In the evening the sermon was from Psalms, 42-11: "Why art thou cast down, O my soul? and why art thou disquieted within me? hope thou in God," etc. The sermon went to show that though sometimes dark clouds gather about God's children, they will finally be dispersed, and they shall praise God as their deliverer; being listened to with marked attention throughout.

At 3½ o'clock the funeral services of Mr. John E. Gilberd took place at this church, Dr. Stevenson officiating, whose remarks on the occasion were founded on the words in Revelation: "Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord." The discourse was well adapted to its purpose, and was listened to with earnest attention by a crowded house.

At the Presbyterian Church Rev. Mr. Clokey filled the pulpit in the morning, and preached from the words, "Honor thy father and thy mother that thy days may be long in the land," etc. The sermon is spoken of in most complimentary terms by those who heard it. In the evening the pastor preached from Corinthians, 13-13, "And now abideth faith, hope and charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity." The sermon was a chaste and able production, and was well received by the large and attentive audience.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the funeral services of Mr. James Leforgee took place from this church, the pastor officiating.—The church was full on the occasion, and the services were deeply solemn and impressive.

At the Baptist Church Rev. J. C. Bonham, the pastor, officiated, and preached excellent sermons both morning and evening, to full houses. Mr. Bonham's services are highly appreciated by his congregation, a fact that is well attested by its constant increase in numbers.

Woman Found.—Mrs. Seigel, of Maroa, about whose disappearance quite an excitement existed in that village on Thursday and Friday of last week, was found on Friday by Mr. Mark Tozer. The following account of her discovery is from the Maroa News: "Yesterday however, about eleven o'clock, Mr. Mark Tozer, not quite satisfied with the examination that had been made of the premises, was taking another look around the house, when he discovered the tip end of a shawl protruding from under a plank that closed up a small opening under the house, and taking hold of it to pull it out, the garment was pulled back out of sight. It took but a few seconds to remove the plank, when the unfortunate woman was found partly concealed behind a block of wood and partly hidden in a hole in the ground that had previously been made by hogs, before the opening had been closed up. She was taken out and properly cared for."

Special Notice.—E. Hughes, Justice of the Peace, will give attention to the collection of claims, either local or from abroad. Address P. O. Box 297. Office No. 19 Water street. [May 4-d1m*

Class in Phonograph.—The class in phonography will meet for the present in the Telegraph Institute rooms. Having met with unexpected encouragement for building up a permanent institution in reporting in Decatur, and having concluded to fit up a hall for that purpose, we can, for a week or so, give lessons only in the evening. The course will commence this evening, at 7½ o'clock.

The Tennesseans.—This troupe of colored singers will entertain our people at the Opera House on Wednesday evening of this week. The company, as will be seen by reference to their advertisement which appears in our columns, is composed of five males and the same number of females, all of whom save one, were once slaves. The avails of their entertainments go to aid the funds of the Central Tennessee College, where they are being educated. They are all most excellent young people, and are superb singers. The press of those cities where their concerts have been given, praise their entertainments without stint or measure. They sing the old plantation hymns just as they were composed and sung by their originators. They also sing some other songs of a very taking character, making one of the most agreeable entertainments ever given in our city. Let them have a full house.

'Unquestionably the Best Sustained Work of the kind in the World."

Harper's Magazine

Notices of the Press:

The ever-increasing circulation of this excellent monthly proves its continued adaptation to popular desires and needs.—Indeed, when we think into how many homes it penetrates every month, we must consider it as one of the educators as well as entertainers of the public mind, for its vast popularity has been won by no appeal to stupid prejudice or depraved tastes.—Boston Globe.

The character which this Magazine possesses for variety, enterprise, artistic wealth and literary culture that has kept pace with, if it has not led the times, should cause its conductors to regard it with justifiable complacency. It also entitles them to a great claim upon the public gratitude. The Magazine has done good and not evil all the days of its life.—Brooklyn Eagle.
